Please pray for these requests this week!

1. Praise God for our little girl who turned seven yesterday! Also, pray for Annise, and that we can figure out why she is struggling with school. Pray for direction on whether to hold her back for next year. Cheri
2. Pray for the safety of our armed forces and for God's blessings on their families. Pray for safety for our administration and cabinet members. Pray for wisdom and peace with Iran. Pray for our young people to love one another and to get jobs. Pray for a stop to violence and for peace in America. Pray that my grandson, Billy, gets the job he wants. Marilyn
3. We will be traveling to NY to see our daughter, son-in-law, and grandchildren from 5/29-6/1. Pray for safe travels and great family time together. Rich and Maggie
4. Pray for a healing of our country, and that we serve others and love all of God's children. Pray we choose forgiveness over retaliation. Pray that we acknowledge those in our path. Pray for physical healing, for mental healing, for those grieving, for the homeless, and for families in the midst of divorce. Pray for our staff and the church body at FCC. Anonymous
5. Praise God that Siani's surgery went well. She tore her ACL, MCL, and PCL, and has a long recovery ahead. Pray that she stays encouraged and patient during this time. Sanny
6. Pray for Ezekiel and for strength for his little body and lungs so he can get off continuous oxygen. Pray that his digestive system is strengthened so that he can get off the tube feeding system. Pray that his body is strengthened for the upcoming surgery on his kidneys. Praise God for Rachel who takes such good care of him every day. Bless her and encourage her and give her enough energy. Praise God for her love and care. Christy
7. Monday, I found out that a little dot on my neck is melanoma. It is stage 0, which I am glad about. Surgery is on Wednesday and Thursday to remove the cancerous cells. Sandra
8. Praise that Rob is healing so well from the bone graft in his shoulder. Cousin Lindsay is praising that her lymphoma is not the aggressive kind. Pray for friend, Mary, who is bitter and angry and lashing out. She needs a softened heart and the Lord. I'm praising Jesus for a good report from my lung doctor. CarrieAnne
